

CANVAS:

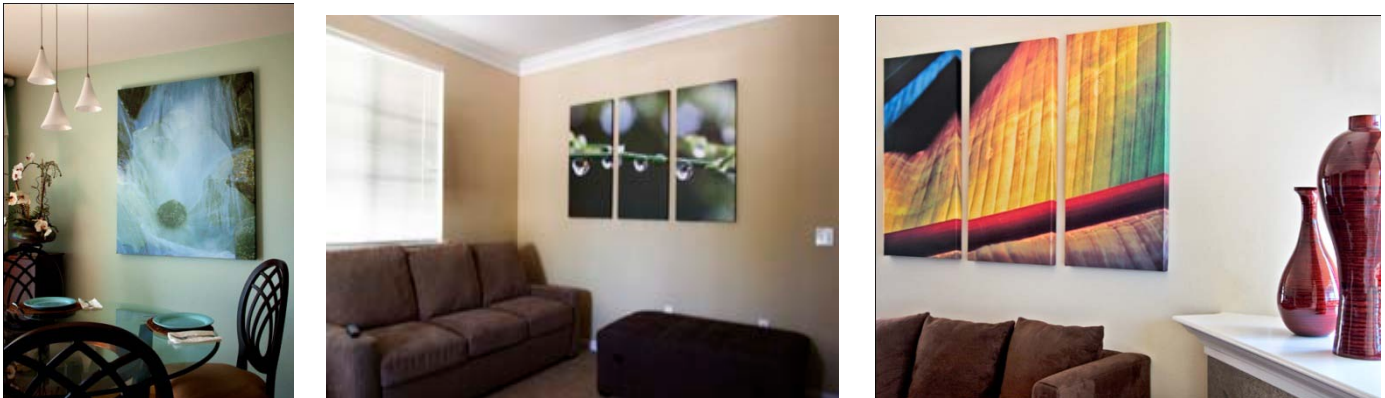

Unless stipulated as “canvas only,” all our canvas prints are mirror gallery wrapped on 1 ½ inch stretcher bars.

For mirror gallery wrap we copy a portion of the image at the edge of the image and “flip” it then paste it onto the edge. This pasted portion is what shows on the side of the image. They look like this:

The stretched canvas can be framed; however, for a more contemporary look the unframed stretched image is ready for installation.

Any image can be presented as a single image or divided up into panels:

And you can see how the mirror gallery wrap looks when approached from the side – as if the image is continuous – This is very effective for hallway installations for instance. Mounting onto black wood panels can add a refined touch as well.
